Kuropatkin Thanks Them for Their Valiant Work.

MADE HEROIC DEFENSE

SAYS THAT EMPEROR HAS NOW ASSIGNED SUFFICIENT TROOPS TO VANQUISH THE FOE AND HIS WISH WILL BE FULFILLED.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 9.—Following is the text of an order of the day issued by General Kuropatkin and dated October 2:

"More than seven months ago the enemy treacherously fell upon us at Port Arthur before war had been declared. Since then by land and sea Russian troops have performed many heroic deeds of which the fatherland may justly be proud. The enemy, however, is not wholly overthrown but in his arrogance continues to dream of complete victory.

"The troops of the Manchurian army in unvarying good spirits hitherto have not been numerically strong enough to defeat the Japanese army. Much time is necessary for overcoming all the difficulties of strengthening the active army so as to enable it to accomplish with complete success the arduous but honorable task imposed upon it. It is for this reason, in spite of the [illegible] repulses of Japanese attacks upon our position at Tatchekiao, Liandiansian and Liao-yang, I did not consider that the time had arrived to take advantage of these successes and begin a forward movement and I therefore gave the order to retreat.

Heroic Defense.

"You left the positions you had so heroically defended, covered with piles of the enemy's dead and without allowing yourselves to be disturbed by the foe and in full preparedness for a fresh fight. After a five days' battle at Liao-yang you retired on a new position which had been prepared previously. After successfully defending all advanced and main positions, you withdrew to Mukden under most difficult conditions.

"Attacked by General Kuroki's army you marched through almost impassable mud, fighting throughout the day and [illegible] guns and carts with your hands and returned to Mukden without abandoning a single gun, prisoner, or wounded man and with the baggage train entirely intact.

"I ordered the retreat with a sorrowful heart but with unshaken confidence that it was necessary to gain complete and decisive victory over the enemy when the time came.

Victory Assured.

"The emperor has assigned for the conflict with Japanese forces sufficient to assure us victory. All difficulties in transportation of these forces over a distance of 10,000 versts are being overcome in a spirit of self-sacrifice and with indomitable energy and skill. In the course of seven months hundreds of thousands of men and tens of thousands of horses and carts and millions of pounds of stores have been

HIS HEAD IN LION'S MOUTH

LONDON COMMENTS ON KUROPATKIN'S DECISION TO TAKE THE OFFENSIVE—POSSIBLY ACTING ON IMPERIAL ORDERS.

London, Oct. 10.—The new phase of the war involved in General Kuropatkin's stirring address to his army is keenly discussed by English military critics. In the light of the probable motives underlying Kuropatkin's decision to take the offensive it is not forgotten how recently the Russian plan of campaign was represented to be ready to draw the Japanese northward in order to attenuate their communications and hence there is greater surprise somewhat is considered a remarkable order.

Various Theories.

Various reasons are advanced by the critics as having possibly actuated Kuropatkin. First, that Japanese inactivity led him to suppose that he was stronger numerically; second, that intrigues connected with the appointment of a new commander-in-chief may have determined Kuropatkin to precipitate matters; and third, and according to the English critics by far the most acceptable explanation, that he has again been overruled from St. Petersburg and is acting on imperial orders.

Victory at Any Cost.

"He seems to be thrusting his head into the lion's jaws," says the Daily Telegraph. [illegible] St. Petersburg to give the czar victory at any cost."

[illegible] Wilkinson, in the Morning Post, [illegible] He says that Kuropatkin's [illegible] of the relief of Port Arthur and the fact that [illegible] followed a big demand to [illegible] army, he apparently is about to risk [illegible] in an attack by the first of May. [illegible]

SIX MEN WERE KILLED

Employes Meet in St. Clair Tunnel.

A BRAVE ENGINEER'S END

WENT BACK FOR HIS COMRADES AND LOST HIS OWN LIFE. TRAIN BROKE IN TWO AND MEN WERE SUFFOCATED.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 9.—Six employes of the Grand Trunk railway were suffocated to death by coal gas today in the St. Clair tunnel, which runs under the St. Clair river from Port Huron to Sarnia, Ont. A coal train broke in two, while passing through the tunnel and three of the train crew were suffocated while part of the train lay stalled in the tunnel.

The engineer pulled out with his engine but returned and lost his life in an endeavor to push the stalled cars back to safety. Superintendent A. S. Begg and another man perished in attempting to go to the rescue of the others. The dead:

A. S. Begg, Port Huron, superintendent of terminals.

Engineer [illegible] Coleman, Port Huron.

Conductor J. B. Simpson, Sarnia, Ont.

Conductor D. F. Tinsley, Sarnia, Ont.

Brakeman Thomas McGrath, Sarnia, Ont.

Brakeman D. A. Gillis, Sarnia, Ont.

Fireman Fred Forester, with great presence of mind, jumped into the partly filled water tank of the engine where there was enough air to preserve his life, although he is in a serious condition tonight.

Forester was in the tank nearly two hours before he was rescued and his escape is little short of miraculous.

SEEK BATTLE AT LIAO-YANG

JAPANESE ENDEAVORING TO BRING THE RUSSIANS INTO ACTION AT THE OLD BATTLE GROUND.

Mukden, Oct. 8.—Via Tien-tsin, Oct. 9.—A crossing of the Tai-tse river east of Benshu by Russian cavalry shows that the Japanese are retiring on their position at Liao-yang and to the east of him out of Yental, as though they were [illegible] a defensive action near Liao-yang.

The Japanese, after approaching the Hun river, appear merely to hold General Kuroki's late battle ground, where cannon firing upon the Russian cavalry occurred during the evening and afternoon of October 7. It was quiet [illegible]

The Japanese right is understood to be guarded by a Japanese force beyond which outposts of Cossacks are stationed, but no action between the Cossacks and Japanese has been reported within a week, in order to retake lost ground. The Russians have now a task similar to that of the Japanese, that is, to make a road over a hitherto unmapped region, but the season being dry, is highly favorable to the task of road-making.

The inactivity of the Japanese is not unusual. It recalls their retirement from the vicinity of Kai-chou, before the battle of Vafangow. It also recalls General Kuroki's strategy throughout the fighting in Motien pass. The Japanese north front has been located on a line extending from Benshu to the Yental coal mines and bending north in the center to Hun pass.

SANCTITY OF MARRIAGE TIE

MASS MEETING IN BOSTON TO PROTEST AGAINST DIVORCE EVIL—BISHOP DOANE'S POSITIVE VIEW OF THE MATTER.

Boston, Oct. 9.—Great crowds went to Trinity church to hear the archbishop of Canterbury preach and to the Church of the Advent, where a mass meeting in the interest of upholding the sanctity of the marriage bond was addressed by several well-known leaders in the Episcopal church.

Rt. Rev. W. C. Doane, D. D., bishop of Albany, who is endeavoring to secure conformity regarding the marriage of persons who have been divorced, quoted from the marriage ritual of the prayer book to show that nothing but death could sever those who have been united in holy matrimony and said:

"I think it is time that the canons of the church agreed with the prayerbook."

Rev. Dr. W. W. Webb, of Nashota, Wis., said:

"There have been 60,000 divorces in the United States in the past year. Figures are not wanting that the people are realizing that the divorce evil must be checked."

JAP LINE BROKEN

Outposts Driven Back in Series of Skirmishes.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 10, [illegible] a. m.—General Kuropatkin's order of the day announcing his determination to take the offensive is supplemented tonight by the news that an offensive movement has already begun and that the Japanese line has been broken at Bentsiaputze.

The Japanese occupied a front of about 22 miles, stretching from Bentsiaputze on the east through Yental and across the railroad to the banks of the Hun river on the west. The Russian forces had been moving south in close touch with the Japanese advance since October 4.

The Japanese outposts were driven back in a series of skirmishes and on October 6 the Russians re-occupied the station of Shahhe, 3 miles south of Mukden, the railway battalion restoring the bridge across the Shakhe river the next day in order to facilitate the advance.

Warm Skirmishes.

Meanwhile General Mistchenko's Cossacks pushed southwestward as far as the Yental mines, defeating the Japanese in a series of warm skirmishes. The most important action, however, occurred on the Japanese right at Bentsiaputze. Here the Japanese held a strong and important position, but it seems they made the inexplicable omission to fortify a commanding hill which was the key to the whole situation.

A portion of General [illegible] force made a strong attack on Bentsiaputze and, taking a leaf from the Japanese book, occupied the hill on the east and flanked the Japanese out of the town, causing a serious loss in a rear guard fight. The Russian casualties are reported to have been inconsiderable.

Marching Eastward.

While these operations are progressing south of Mukden it is reported that two Japanese divisions under General Fushimi are marching west up the Liao river and are now 25 miles south of Sinmintin. General Kuropatkin is expected to make a similar move eastward.

This statement, if accurate, leaves the two armies in the anomalous position of threatening each other's line of communication, the Japanese by a wide turning movement while the Russians, pushing south, have already inflicted a blow on the Japanese right and are crowding back their center along the railway.

While it is understood that Mukden is not heavily fortified, General Kuropatkin has a powerful force behind him.

If, as he asserts, the Russians are now powerful enough to assume the offensive, it is possible his advance movement will force the Japanese flanking column to withdraw in order to protect their own base. On the other hand there seems to be a possibility of one or both the Japanese columns threatening the railway behind the Russians and forcing a suspension of their aggressive movements.

LEGISLATIVE FAIR WORK

REPORT OF CHIEF OF EXPLOITATION SHOWS THAT ABOUT $5,000,000 IN BUILDINGS AND EXHIBITS WERE SECURED.

St. Louis, Oct. 9.—Charles M. Reeves, chief of the department of domestic exploitation has completed his report of the legislative work of the World's fair. It shows that the states of the [illegible] appropriated $[illegible] on the buildings and exhibits at the exposition.

Mr. Reeves says:

"Not one penny of the money obtained was corruptly expended in the accomplishment of these splendid results. Every cent that was paid out is accounted for, only one state out of the 51 states, territories and possessions having buildings and exhibits on the exposition grounds, were we approached with a corrupt proposition and that was not made to me direct. A clique of about seven men declared they controlled the legislature of the state in question and they demanded consideration for passing a bill appropriating money for the state's participation in the fair. We at once arranged a private subscription plan which worked well, but the people, without a hint from St. Louis, surmised the reasons for the failure of the bill and I have been told that every one of the seven was defeated for renomination or re-election at the subsequent primaries and elections. The next legislature made a rather liberal appropriation.

"Few promises were made. Neither patronage nor patents were held out to legislators as inducements to them to support our bills."

FIRE IN MANITOU

Norris House, Transfer Barn and Curio Store Destroyed by Flames.

Fire which broke out in Manitou about 1 o'clock this morning destroyed the Norris house, a big transfer and livery barn adjoining, and the Sherwood curio store. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

The Norris house was being conducted by Mrs. Ray, who is not in town tonight.

For a time the Barker house was threatened, but the absence of wind combined with the efforts of the fire departments of the three cities, saved this hotel and at 2 o'clock the fire was under control.

Call for Assistance.

As soon as the Norris house was in flames an immediate call for assistance was telephoned to the Colorado Springs fire department. Chief [illegible] was aroused and immediately ordered out the [illegible] from his house in the north end, the hose and ladder company from the central station and Company No. 2 from the west side. Chief Gary also went over making ten members of the Colorado Springs fire department who went to aid in subduing the flames in the neighboring city.

KING AT CHURCH

Peter of Servia Was Anointed With Stately Ceremony.

Zicha, Servia, Oct. 9.—The anointing of King Peter was performed here with great ceremony this morning. At [illegible] amid the peal of bells the king in full [illegible] proceeded to the church, where the metropolitan, attended by an array of [illegible] clergy, celebrated high mass.

The king being then formally invited to anointment by the [illegible] laid aside his crown, [illegible] proceeded to the altar, where he took up his position on a [illegible] carpet and where the metropolitan, holding an ampulla containing the holy chrism in one hand and the anointing rod in the other, touched his majesty with the rod on the forehead, nostrils, mouth, eyes, chest and palms of the hands, making each time the sign of the cross and saying, "The seal of the grace of the Holy Ghost."

The king was then conducted to the altar and partook of the communion, afterward returning to the throne where he resumed his royal emblems. The metropolitan then invoked God's blessing and the ceremony terminated with the singing of an anthem, the king taking the cross to [illegible] as he left the church.

WAR NEWS SUMMARY

Simultaneously with General Kuropatkin's announcement to his army that the time had come for a forward movement there comes news that the Russians have captured Bentsiaputze one of the strategical points held by the Japanese. The event did not precipitate a severe engagement, though the Japanese are reported to have suffered a considerable loss, the turning of their position having exposed them to a severe fire.

In his address to his army General Kuropatkin asserts that the Russians have a force numerically superior to that of the Japanese and he predicts a telling victory for his soldiers.

The retirement of the Japanese on their position at Liao-yang is construed as evidencing the desire of Field Marshal Oyama to draw the Russians into an attack on a strong defensive position. The dry weather is favorable to military operations.

The fleet blockading Port Arthur is reported to be more than usually alert, watching for British ships that are supposed to be planning to take supplies into the harbor.

WATER IS UP AGAIN

Another Rise in Santa Fe River Causes Much Damage.

Denver, Oct. 9.—A special to the News from Santa Fe, N. M., says that heavy rains last night caused another rise in the Santa Fe river, which was already very high from previous floods. Excepting of water mains no additional damage was done in the city. All railroads except the Santa Fe Central are tied up. The Santa Fe sent out only one train today and that only to Lamy.

A News special from Las Vegas says several washouts of newly repaired tracks south of this city were caused by last night's storm and the Santa Fe road will be blocked until Wednesday when trains north and south are expected to run.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 9.—The railroad washout situation is little improved in this section, according to reports [illegible] for El Paso. The Southern Pacific and Santa Fe west of El Paso are still badly crippled, but are able to get delayed trains through over the El Paso and Southwestern track. The Rock Island succeeded in reaching its washouts in New Mexico yesterday, but the train leaving here Saturday night had to turn back today and go east over the Texas Pacific tracks.

BURNED MANY FINE CARRIAGES

WASHINGTON LIVERY STABLE PLACE LOSS BIG DAMAGE—RUBE WADDELL AS A FIREMAN.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Fire in William F. and E. F. Downey's livery stable in L street, Northwest, today caused a loss of about $30,000. Some of the finest carriages owned in Washington, stored in the building, were burned.

The French embassy lost a [illegible] carriage and others who lost vehicles are Senators Wetmore, Dryden and Fairbanks, Representative Hitt, and Mrs. Westinghouse. Two hundred carriages on the top floor were destroyed and about 200 others on the third floor were badly damaged.

Waddell, the Philadelphia baseball pitcher, turned volunteer fireman and with a handkerchief tied across his mouth entered the building with the firemen.

MUST FACE MANY CHARGES

DR. MOORE AND F. W. WELLER ARRESTED NOMINALLY FOR CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPONS IN CRIPPLE CREEK.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 9.—Dr. William Moore, who has been a very prominent sympathizer with the W. F. M. and its methods, and F. W. Weller, an employe of the Federation store, were arrested at a late hour tonight for carrying concealed weapons. Weller being placed in the county jail and Moore in the city jail.

The real cause of the arrest was the posting up of large posters of the American flag which were defaced by short sentences of denunciation of the state administration.

The men were followed by Chief of Police Crowder and several citizens who saw the men paste the bills on the plate glass windows of six large business houses. When arrested both tried to deny the allegation, but after they had been taken back over the route they had just gone over and showed the posters, both admitted their guilt.

D[illegible] Moore [illegible] did not answer the question of Chief Crowder intelligently, but Mr. Weller stated that he had secured the posters from the Union store in this city, where he was employed. He further said that Mr. Moore agreed to help him post them up. Weller, when searched, had a double-barreled derringer on his person and for the present he is held on this charge. In all probability a charge of bill posting without a license, defacing private property and malicious mischief will be preferred against the men.

Through the timely interference of Chief of Police Crowder there is no doubt that the men narrowly escaped violence, as a number of men were following close on their trail. The chief of police had the men locked up before any others could reach them.

FREIGHT PILED 50 FEET HIGH

DISASTROUS WRECK IN A CUT ON NORTHERN PACIFIC IN MONTANA—FIREMAN WAS KILLED.

Missoula, Mont., Oct. 9.—One of the worst freight wrecks which has occurred on the Rocky Mountain division of the Northern Pacific in many years took place early today about five miles east of Garrison, Mont.

An extra east-bound freight had orders to meet three sections of a west-bound train at Big Bend, but owing to a misconception of his orders the engineer of the extra pulled out ahead of time and met the second section of the west-bound train in a deep cut while both trains were running at a high rate of speed.

Fireman Bowman, of the extra, was killed and two other trainmen slightly injured. Freight cars loaded with import freight for the orient were piled up 50 feet and the wreckage of both trains was scattered along the track for a considerable distance. It was impossible to build a track around the wreck on account of the deep cut and the traffic was delayed for 8 hours.

KUROPATKIN'S ORDER CAUSED WILD ENTHUSIASM AT MUKDEN

Mukden, Oct. 6.—Deleref—Nemirovich-Danchenko, in a dispatch to the Associated Press says:

General Kuropatkin's order to advance, which was read to the troops after a church service October 5, evoked wild enthusiasm. It was a beautiful autumn day. Officers and soldiers were packed around General Kuropatkin's train, the steps of which were used for a pulpit, from which Father Golubeff preached to a multitude that stretched farther than his voice could carry. Father Golubeff uttered a fervent prayer for victory and, raising a cross aloft and turning to the general said:

"The ancients commanded their sons to return with their shields or on it. I say to you go forward with the cross, trusting in Christ."

His words were received with solemn expectancy by the men who did not yet know a forward move had been determined upon though there had been a period of preparation which had aroused strong hopes. The crucial moment came after the service. The St. George's cross was distributed. The Ussuri Cossacks and the men greeting the names of Skobeleff and Adlerff, the great Russian heroes with loud cheers. Then came the march past before the [illegible] of the St. George's cross. Kuropatkin, who meanwhile was standing behind the newly decorated men, smiled grimly and stepping to the front read personally the announcement of a forward movement. This was received with deafening cheers, as far as it was heard and understood. But quicker than printed copies of the order could circulate the announcement went from camp to camp and from bivouac to bivouac, the men acting like schoolboys on vacation when they learned what was in the wind.

It is true that the army is now fit to measure itself with the Japanese force. Kuropatkin has gathered up reinforcements and welded an incomplete army into a compact whole and is ready to advance against what we have reason to know is a brave and clever army.

Viceroy Alexieff arrived from Harbin October 5 to say farewell to General Kuropatkin in view of the latter's departure for the front, and Viceroy Alexieff's probable return to Russia.

We left Mukden the afternoon of the same day amid the cheers of the soldiers for the purpose of overtaking the regiments on their way to the front. The men are now thoroughly rested and equipped and there is no trace of the fatigue shown at Liao-yang.

Regiments are arriving from Russia in fine condition. The men are in better spirits the nearer they get to the front.

"Now is our turn," is heard everywhere in the ranks. The veteran who fought with Skobeleff [illegible] den in fine trim. The gray haired old Turkestan fighter seems to have grown quite young.

coming uninterruptedly by rail from European Russia and Siberia to Manchuria. If the regiments which have already been sent out prove insufficient fresh troops will arrive for the inflexible wish of the emperor that we should vanquish the foe will be inflexibly fulfilled.

"Heretofore the enemy, in operating [illegible] his great forces and disposing his armies so as to surround us, has chosen as he deemed fit his time for attacks; but now the moment to go to meet the enemy, for which the whole army has been longing, has come, and the time has arrived for us to compel the Japanese to do our will, for the forces of the Manchurian army are strong enough to begin a forward movement. Nevertheless, you must unceasingly be mindful of the victory to be gained over our strong and gallant foe. In addition to numerical strength in all commands, from the lowest to the highest, the firm determination must be to prevail, to gain victory. Whatever be the sacrifice necessary to this end, bear in mind the importance of victory to Russia and above all remember how necessary victory is, the more speedily to relieve our brothers at Port Arthur, who for seven months have heroically maintained the defense of the fortress intrusted to their care.

Bracing Them Up.

"Our army, strong in its union with the emperor and all Russia, performed great deeds of heroism for the fatherland in all our wars and gained for itself well-merited renown among all nations. Think at every hour of the [illegible] of Russia's dignity and rights in the far east, which have been intrusted to you by the emperor's wish. Think at every hour that to you the defense of the honor and fame of the whole Russian army has been confided.

"The illustrious head of the Russian fatherland, together with the whole of Russia, prays for you, blesses you for your heroic deeds. Strengthened by this prayer and the consciousness of the importance of the task that has fallen to us, we must go forward fearlessly with a firm determination to do our duty to the end without sparing our lives.

"The will of God be with us all."

DRIVING BACK THE JAPANESE

RUSSIAN FORWARD MOVEMENT RESULTS IN CAPTURE OF FORTIFIED POSITION WITH HEAVY JAPANESE LOSS.

Mukden, Oct. 9.—The Russian forward movement has begun and Bentsiaputze has been captured with a small loss.

In order to have a clear understanding of the situation it may be stated that two days ago the Japanese divisions confronted the Russians north of the Taitse river. Their left flank, consisting of two divisions, was on the railroad [illegible] west of Mukden and close to the Hun river. Their center, comprised of four divisions, occupied the railway between Liaoyang and Chandiapuze, twelve miles north. Two more divisions occupied the extreme Japanese right along the road between Bentsiaputze and Benshu. Their front extended about fifty-two miles.

The position at Bentsiaputze was strongly fortified and intended to withstand an attack. It is reported that General Kuroki was there in person. The Japanese had omitted to fortify one hill, which was the key to the position. The Russians, aware of this omission, made a wide detour eastward and seized the hill with little opposition. The hill once occupied exposed the whole Japanese position to a heavy flanking fire. The Russians also turned the Japanese right and the fortified positions thus become untenable. The Japanese were forced to withdraw hurriedly from Bentsiaputze, fighting a rear guard action in which they suffered heavily. The Russian losses throughout are very small although severe opposition had been expected.

General Mistchenko's Cossacks had been harrying the Japanese outposts for several days and were entirely successful in a number of engagements.

The Russian southern advance began on October 4 with the occupation of Shakhe. The next day the station which had been dismantled by the Japanese was restored by the railway brigade following immediately behind the fighting line and the same brigade also restored the bridges across the Shakhe river. On October 6 General Mistchenko advanced almost to the Yentai mines, driving in the Japanese outposts with heavy losses at the expense of only one killed and five injured.

The Russian forward movement began in the heaviest marching order in which every man carried a large knapsack on his back, a rifle on his shoulder and a large kettle or teapot slung to his waist while hanging from the belt is the cartridge case in front and a big wooden water bottle and an axe, pickaxe or spade on either side. Altogether with overcoats, the equipment weighs [illegible] pounds. The soldiers move steadily and cheerfully, though the column looks more like a pack train than an army. First aid stations of the Red Cross are being organized and the nurses are working untiringly everywhere. Doctors and Sisters of Charity are going to the front in the Chinese carts at the rate of two miles an hour, but are cheerful and devoted as ever.

Chinese reports of the Japanese movements state that Lieutenant General [illegible] with two divisions is moving to flank the Russians. His force is already on the Liao river within 22 miles of [illegible]. A simultaneous movement, it is understood, is being carried out by General Kuroki to the eastward with the object of striking the railway and flanking the Russians out of Mukden as was done at Liao-yang, but the conditions are rather different now.

VAN BRIGGLE WARE TAKES FIRST PRIZE

Finest Art Ware in the World—So Says the Jury of Awards of the World's Fair—Big Discount Sale at Foltz & Hardy's This Week.

So great is the interest in Van Briggle Pottery since the announcement was made that it captured the gold medal at the World's fair that the Foltz-Hardy Co., who are the agents, have been authorized to continue their special sale for another week at least. The prices will be from 30 to 50 per cent less than the prices that have always prevailed.

An art patron remarked that he considered the use value of every small piece of Van Briggle pottery to have advanced a hundred per cent since the first prize at the greatest of world's fairs had been awarded it.

Persons who purchased vases during the past few weeks at the reduced prices are fortunate indeed. In [illegible] though that [illegible] good example of Mr. Van Briggle's own designs will have advanced very materially in value.

One of the greatest compliments ever passed on Van Briggle pottery was expressed recently by Max Schwedersky, who visited Foltz & Hardy's one day last week and selected 12 pieces to be shipped to his home in New York city. Mr. Schwedersky is special representative for the famous Braun-Clement Art company, of Paris, [illegible] as an art critic and connoisseur as well as a collector of art wares. "I like Van Briggle pottery better than any art ware I have ever seen," he said and he backed his judgment by buying a dozen pieces of it.

A very complete and handsome display of the ware will be shown at Foltz & Hardy's this week, the prices will be the same as extended during the sale which closed a week ago. Almost entirely new lot of the pottery has been added for this week's sale.

HOME MISSION WORK AND THE HOSPITAL IDEA

National Workers Along These Lines Addressed Large Audience at the First Methodist Church—Funds for Hospital.

There was a large gathering at the First Methodist church last evening to listen to the addresses of the representatives of the Women's Home Missionary society. The deepest interest was manifested in the remarks of the speakers and as the close of the service a contribution was taken up which netted a good sum for the local Deaconess home, which is run under the auspices of this society.

The speakers of the evening talked on various phases of the work of the society. Among the subjects treated were the work of the Philadelphia home, the development of the hospital idea, the work of the immigration department, the Washington work and the possibilities of the Deaconess home in this city.

Mrs. Fisk, of New York.

Mrs. Clinton B. Fisk, of New York, the national president of the organization, presided. Her opening remarks were in the nature of a brief review of the work of the society's recent Twenty-third annual convention in Denver. Mrs. Fisk had a warm word to say about Colorado's hospitality, not a little of which the delegates have received in Colorado Springs during their few days stay here since coming from Denver.

Mrs. J. W. Bickford, of Philadelphia, was the first speaker introduced. Her subject was "The Philadelphia Deaconess Home," which started in 1888. [illegible] dwelt somewhat at length on the work of the Philadelphia home in the slums of that city, and of its wonderful progress among the poor and afflicted.

In speaking of the immigration work of the society, Mrs. Carry Barge, who was the next speaker on the program, said that fully as many young people were interested in the movement as the armies of the country since the war of 1812 and those of the standing armies of continental Europe combined. The immigration branch of the society was established about six years after the main society was formed. It had seventy organizations during the first year and now it has over 25,000 organizations.

The Hospital Idea.

[illegible] Bancroft told of the development of the "Hospital Idea" in the society. At the time of Christ there were no hospitals as they are known today, according to the speaker, and it was only after his influence had become felt among men that this form of brotherly love began to take hold of men.

Miss Bancroft spoke of her visit to the Deaconess hospital in this city yesterday afternoon. She expressed herself as greatly pleased with the outlook for the local association and asked for its hearty support from the citizens of Colorado Springs.

Mrs. D. B. Sweet's address was in the nature of a general history of hospital work and was very interesting. Her remarks were largely in the interest of Sibley hospital, Washington, D. C., which has grown to be an institution of great value under the patronage of this society. Mrs. Sweet also spoke of her visit to the Deaconess hospital in this city and predicted a great future for it.

The address of Mrs. A. C. Peck of Denver, came as the last on the program and was a direct appeal for aid in the interest of the local institution. Her appeal won a generous response to the contribution, which was asked for and many pledges were also received.

Mrs. Peck announced that the hospital authorities had recently decided to take tubercular patients under the care of the institution. Mrs. Peck stated that the present property would be sufficient for the future needs of the institution, provided none of the land was sold, as has been planned to pay off some of the debt on the property.

THOUSANDS ATTEND FUNERAL OF LATE HENRY C. PAYNE

Milwaukee, Oct. 9.—The remains of Postmaster General Henry Clay Payne were laid to rest in Forest Home cemetery, this city, this afternoon. It is estimated that 25,000 persons viewed the remains at the city hall before they were removed to All Saints church. Mrs. Payne and members of the funeral party who accompanied the remains from Washington took a farewell view of the departed at noon.

At 2 o'clock the casket was placed in a hearse and, under an escort of 200 letter carriers of the Milwaukee postoffice, the procession moved to the church. The active pall bearers were eight letter carriers from the Milwaukee postoffice who were employed at the time Mr. Payne was postmaster of Milwaukee. The honorary pall bearers included Secretaries Morton, Metcalf, Wilson, United States Senators Quarles and Spooner, Elmer Dever and Harry E. New.

A large delegation from the Chicago postoffice, headed by Postmaster Coyne, was at the cathedral. As were delegations from various Milwaukee organizations with whom Mr. Payne was connected. The funeral party was met at the church entrance by Bishop Nicholson, his assistants and a surpliced choir of forty voices, who preceded them to the chancel. The full Episcopal services were read by Bishop Nicholson.

The services at the church over, the remains were placed in the hearse and the funeral party, consisting of the family, Bishop Nicholson and the clergy, the honorary pall bearers and a few intimate friends, proceeded to Forest Home cemetery. The services at the grave were private.

Milwaukee, Oct. 9.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw arrived here this morning and left on an early train for Oswego, N. Y., where he has an engagement to deliver a speech on Monday. Mr. Shaw's engagement would not permit of his remaining for the funeral of Postmaster General Payne. He accompanied Mrs. Payne and other members of the funeral party to the city hall at noon. Secretaries Morton, Metcalf, Wilson and other members of the cabinet left for the east tonight.

Denver, Oct. 9.—Miss Helen M. Gould and party, who have been guests of the local branch of the Y. M. C. A. for several days, left for Colorado Springs tonight.

They attended a mass meeting at Trinity church today called for the purpose of arousing interest in the project of a new building for the Denver association. During the meeting contributions were received for the support of nurses employed by the local association to care for the sick. Among the speakers who strongly urged the construction of a Y. M. C. A. building here were the three officials of the International Y. M. C. A. who are traveling with the Gould party.

PRISONER HAS BEEN TAKEN BACK

W. J. KELLY, BROUGHT HERE TO SAVE HIM FROM MOB LAW, WILL HAVE TRIAL AT CASTLE ROCK TODAY.

W. J. Kelly, who was brought to this city a week ago by the sheriff of Douglas county and was lodged in the county jail for safe keeping because of threatened mob law against him at Castle Rock, was yesterday taken back for trial.

Kelly persuaded Miss [illegible] Lowery, a charming young woman who lives near Sedalia, to go to Denver with him ostensibly to get married. She was infatuated with Kelly at the time and accompanied him to Denver. Kelly did not marry the girl, who was not of age anyway, and her father accompanied by the Douglas county sheriff followed them to Denver and got Kelly and brought the girl home. She afterwards repudiated Kelly.

The feeling at Castle Rock was so strong that the sheriff decided to bring Kelly here until the heat of the hour should pass. He has a hearing this morning. While here he engaged H. L. Chambers to defend him and the latter went to Castle Rock with Kelly and the deputy sheriff last night.

S. N. Nye of the local Opera house joined the party here and went to Denver with the band. "Jim Barnes looks as natural as life," he said on his return last night. "He has not lost any flesh and is the same jolly good fellow as he used to be."

Mr. Barnes was formerly treasurer of the Opera house here and bookkeeper for the Rapid Transit company. He will be here with Sousa when the band plays in this city on its return from the coast, where it is now bound.

"Points on Dressmaking" follows in line with suggestions for the arrangement of the veil, wreath and other accessories regarding which the prospective bride is usually uncertain, and "Her Crown of Glory" presents hair dressing sufficiently varied to suit any face. Women who contemplate making Christmas gifts for their friends will find in the Designer a fund of fancy work information. There are crocheted hood, sack, booties and afghan for the babies, handsome collars and other decorations in the new and quickly made "Princess Louise" lace, and "Uncle Sam" match scratcher, Indian pappoose holder for hat brush, photograph frames, needle book and handkerchief case, and numerous other and useful pretty articles whose directions for construction are made perfectly clear. In entertainments are offered a novel drill, "The Red Man's Thanksgiving," calling for picturesque costuming which may be easily made at home. "A Thanksgiving Cornucopia Party," and "An Archaeological Party," all new and interesting. Ida Innes contributes a pretty love story, "In the World of Today," and W. Livingstone Larned a droll tale for the tots, "A Transferred Thanksgiving." "China of the White House," by J. L. Harbour, pictures the many quaint porcelain relics which have been discovered in odd hiding places in the historic mansion. Those who visited the St. Louis exhibition and partook of its queer yet palatable dainties there offered will be glad to renew their acquaintance with some of them through the agency of "Foreign Cookery at the World's Fair," by Sarah Windle Landes, and everyone, who enjoys pineapples, grape fruit, dates and other luscious things from far-off lands will be interested to see their growth illustrated in "The Kindly Fruits of the Earth." The three departments edited by the readers of the Designer: "What Women Are Doing," "The Mothers' Club" and "Helps Along the Way" are far from being the least interesting part of the magazine, and give to it a pleasant personal element.

THE COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

No one will say that George Ade has failed to hold the mirror up to nature in "The County Chairman," his remarkably successful play which Henry W. Savage offers at the Opera house on tomorrow evening.

"The County Chairman" is usually called a "quaint" comedy, but it is much more than that. It is a comedy of real life—the healthful American life of the middle western village. Geo. Ade is a realist as Ibsen is a realist, but with a marked difference. The [illegible] shadows that cross the path of life while the American dramatist loves the sunshine. It is not the vices that Ade seeks to parade before the public, but rather the virtues. In "The County Chairman" the women are not forever worrying about their past—they are knitting socks or teaching school and talking happily about the future. The men don't sit up nights putting up notable jobs to betray their wives or desert them. The men of Antioch, the typical middle western village where "The County Chairman" scenes are placed, hang around the general store [illegible] [illegible] Ade is out for the laughs first, last and all the time. According to the New York World, "The County Chairman" is the [illegible] hit of the year. It ran for 2[illegible] performances at Wallack's theater in New York [illegible] in Chicago, American [illegible]

ABOUT THAT COAT

You wear a coat. Why? To keep the cold out? No; to keep the warmth in. What of the body that has no warmth—the thin, poor body that lacks the healthy flesh and fat it needs?

For such we say that Scott's Emulsion provides the right kind of a coat. Why? Because Scott's Emulsion builds firm, solid flesh and supplies just enough fat to fill nature's requirements—no more. That means bodily warmth.

WHERE STEVENSON LIVED.

A Quaint Jersey Inn Where He Wrote a Famous Book—"The Master of Ballantrae."

In a comfortable an unfashionable [illegible] the Manasquan river, [illegible] where the river loses itself in the [illegible] Robert Louis Stevenson spent a month nearly twenty years ago, says the New York Sun. For a decade [illegible] the hotelkeeper and [his] family thought nothing much of the [illegible] the place has be[come] a Mecca for Stevenson lovers, and [illegible] the innkeeper says he wishes he had known Mr. Stevenson was to become so famous, for he might have saved a few scraps of the paper scraps of paper the lamp the author worked by, the candle used, and so on.

When Stevenson went to Manasquan [illegible] he was very ill. During the greater part of his stay there, he [sel]dom left his bed. On pleasant days which did not come often, for it was in the spring and it rained more or less constantly, he would leave his bed about noon, take a short walk or drive over the straight roads which stretch out on the landward side of Brielle [illegible].

From his window the author could look straight down the inlet, a mile or so to where the narrow line of dashing breakers marked the joining of the waterway with the sea. It was this view that Stevenson had before him when he wrote a large part of "The Master of Ballantrae." In the morning, after having partaken of coffee and a roll, he would have himself propped up in bed and, rolling pad on knee, would devote himself to his work.

The inn is an unusual type of Jersey seaside resort, in that trees grow quite thickly down to the banks of the inlet. In a small grove of these trees stands the old hotel which has furnished entertainment for something like half a century.

To right and left [illegible] the water and land [illegible] bridges [illegible] Who attracted Steven[son] to the spot cannot now be told, but [illegible] familiar with his works find a similarity between the place and his Highland [illegible].

Stevenson's room was in the corner of the second floor, but a few years ago the hotel was enlarged, and the room [illegible] the center of the [illegible]. Last [summer] a party drove over from Lakewood to the where Stevenson lived. Just as they were about to drive away the hotelkeeper who had been absent when they arrived came up. The man in the party remarked that she had got what they came for [illegible] seen Stevenson's room. The hotelkeeper asked them what room they had seen [illegible] the man [illegible].

"That's a very nice [illegible]" remarked the hotelkeeper, "but it was never occupied by Stevenson. It wasn't built when Stevenson was here, but perhaps that don't matter."

The rest of the party said it wouldn't have mattered a particle if the hotelkeeper had not told them, but since he had done so there was nothing to do but to go and see the right room. The wife, [illegible] had traveled [illegible] miles to see that room and it would not do to take her away without having accomplished the object of her pilgrimage. So they all went back to the hotel and this time saw the right room.

People are coming more or less constantly to see Stevenson's room in the old hotel, driving from various points up and down the coast, and even coming from Lakewood and places still farther away.

Hamehameha [illegible] of Hawaii

Kamehameha, the first king of the Hawaiian Islands, was a young god. [He] was born chieftain of one of the many tribes of Hawaii, and soon succeeded in subduing the entire island and making all its people his own. This was [illegible] tury, an epoch of conquerors, and he forthwith determined to forge the whole group of islands into one kingdom under his single rule. He was a military genius, says Leslie's Weekly, and probably wished for larger worlds to conquer, but he had to fight many battles with the brave little brown men [illegible] acknowledged him their king.

It was a wild, sweet day such as Oahu only can know, and the king of the island had drawn his soldiers up in the valley facing the sea to repel the onslaughts of the invading hordes under Kamehameha. They were brave little men, worthy such a conqueror, and they withstood his advance through the long hours of the day, only retreating inch by inch up the valley. Four little brave brown [illegible]. There were hills, impassable volcanic hills, to the left of them, frowning rock-ribbed hills to the right of them, and behind them the cliffs that opened upon space. Back-ward and backward they were driven, while the wind from the ocean, fresh over the blue and pink coral reefs, struck terror to their stout hearts. Onward and onward came the young conqueror, flying before the arrows of his archers, riding triumphant, upon the flower-scented wind, and smiling at the [illegible] the king of Oahu.

The people were his by right of gods made laws. They were his by right of his superior will, his god-given power, to make them his, as he drove them back and back against the wind, the bitter, wild wind that came up from the soft, tender blue of the coral-reefed sea. Brave little [illegible] beautiful little brown men, with black, curling, silken locks blowing across their eyes. They took a last stand upon the brink of the chasm with their backs to the awful plunge, their faces toward the enemy. "Surrender or die," [illegible] called Kamehameha, but he was answered by a shower of arrows. It was the last. He came down upon them with the force which lies behind a sure sense of victory, and drove them over the cliff, man after man shouting "Surrender!" as their shrieks of brave defiance mingled with the wailing of the wild wind among the jagged rocks. One thousand little brown men went over the Nuuanu Pali that day, and the conqueror became king of the Sandwich Islands.

AFTER FORTY-SIX YEARS

Mrs. M. L. Ashton, of This City, Had a Happy Reunion With Her Brother.

Reunited after 46 years.

That was the happy experience enjoyed yesterday morning by Mrs. M. L. Ashton, of this city, and her brother, Samuel C. Sexton, of Somar, Wash.

Mr. Sexton arrived in the city yesterday morning for the purpose of seeing his sister. He knew she was in Colorado Springs and he knew her name, but being a stranger he did not know how to find her. He stepped into a drug store and asked and was quickly told how to find Mrs. Ashton. He took a car and went to Willamette avenue and then to 329 East Willamette, to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ashton and the door opened to his knock and his sister appeared before him.

He recognized her, but ... until he spoke, she did not recognize him. As soon as he spoke his name, she could see the resemblance of her father in his face and knew he told the truth. A happy scene then followed.

Mr. Sexton and his sister were separated 46 years ago, when their mother died. She, a baby, went to live with her grandmother, while he stayed at home. Mrs. Ashton was not aware that her brother was in the west and was greatly surprised to see him yesterday. She last heard of him as being in Wisconsin.

GET OUT YOUR AXES

But Don't Knock---Woodmen Commence Chopping and Log Rolling Today.

Get your axes out and commence to chop, but keep your hammers in their box.

This is the order of the day and will be until Wednesday morning, for the woodchoppers who don't know how to use the back end of their axe—that is the knocking end—are here in town. They are "boosters" from start to finish, as is shown by the fact that in a few short weeks they have boosted their order so strongly that they have gathered in 200 novitiates who will tomorrow ride burros through the streets of Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou and later ride the goat in the Grand Caverns at Manitou.

The advance guard of the Woodmen of the World, who will take part in the festivities tomorrow, will arrive in the city today and it is expected that the head officers will be here this evening. All will be here in time to take part in the proceedings that start at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

First comes the parade. Those who are to take part in it will gather at Woodmen hall in the ... building on North Tejon at 8:30, according to the orders of W. J. Snider, grand marshal of the day. The parade will there form and march to North park, where the formal welcome will be extended by Mayor ... and Head Consul F. A. Falkenberg will respond for the Woodmen. Then the parade will reform and march, or rather ride—that is if the burros are willing—through the principal streets of the city and over to Colorado City and from there to Manitou.

At Manitou a light picnic repast will be partaken of and then the weird march to the grotto in the side of the Rockies in which the initiation takes place, will be taken up. What happens there the world will never know, of course. It will be the most weird ceremony of initiation the world has ever known.

The banquet and ball in the evening will close the celebration and the next morning Head Consul Falkenberg, accompanied by the other head officers and many local Woodmen, will go to Denver to take part in the big state carnival of Woodmen.

HUNTERS GOT ONE COYOTE

AND THREE RABBITS — LARGE PARTY HAD SUCCESSFUL RUN DOWN THE FOUNTAIN VALLEY YESTERDAY.

One of the most successful and most enjoyable coyote hunts ever held in this vicinity took place yesterday morning under the skilled guidance of Joe S. Kenyon.

Mr. Kenyon and party left this city at 7 in the morning and returned about 11:30 with four kills, three rabbits and one coyote. The chase was through the Skinner, DeCoursey and Thornton ranches in the Fountain valley. Four coyotes were sighted, but the rabbits jumped as ... the dogs ... coyotes and the dogs went after the rabbits.

One of the members of the party was ... of Chicago, a member of ... of that city and one of the best riders of the middle west. The party included besides Mr. ... Captain and Mrs. Bulkeley Wells, Col. Livermore, R. Livermore, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shultz, Miss Lytle, of Boston, Miss Mason, Mr. Compton, Mr. S. D. Burns, Dr. Laddie, William Bailly, Mr. Miller and Mr. Wade.

Another run with the dogs will take place next Sunday morning.

SHOT PISTOL AT THE LIGHTS

NEGRO RAISED DISTURBANCE AT COLORED CLUB PARTY YESTERDAY EVENING — MUCH NOISE BUT LITTLE DAMAGE.

Pistol shots emanating from the negro club in the rear of the Mate building on East Cucharas street, early yesterday morning caused a hurry-up call for the police and a general scramble of those in that neighborhood to find shelter.

It appears the members of the club were having a social time after their manner and a part of the divertisement of the evening was a game of "craps." Others were indulging in intoxicating liquors and got so much that they were troublesome. The one who did the shooting, it is said, was at outs with all the rest and pulled a revolver and blazed away at the electric lights and later at the floor until his gun was empty.

One of the men in the club at the time said he had just won a "pot" when the shooting commenced, but he got only 60 cents of his money in the scramble.

The colored man who did the shooting got out while the others were trembling, waiting for more shots. He evidently shook the dust of the city from his feet without delay for the police have been unable to find any trace of him.

YOUNG MEN ARE TO ORGANIZE

DR. BRAISLIN STARTS A CLUB AMONG MALE MEMBERS OF THE BAPTIST CONGREGATION —MEETING FRIDAY.

The young men of the Baptist church will organize themselves into a Young Men's club to more effectively work for the interests of the church.

Dr. David Braislin, pastor of the church, at his services yesterday extended a general invitation to all the young men of the church to meet at his residence, 2115 North Cascade avenue, a week from next Friday evening, to effect an organization.

This step will be taken that the young men can take more active part in the church life and that they may receive more good spiritually and in other ways by being organized into a band.

Success Club and Young Men's Congress Will Unite This Evening at Y. M. C. A.

A joint meeting of the Success club and the Young Men's congress will be held at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium this evening at which time the two organizations will lose their separate identity and become one.

These organizations have ... the same ... but have been separate and distinct from each other. The leaders of the two have decided that better work and more good can be accomplished by merging the one into the other. This will be done at tonight's meeting, at which a name for the combined societies will be chosen and the work of the fall and winter will be mapped out. Some interesting discussions and debates will be held this season.

BUGGY OVERTURNED

Five People Were Scratched and Bruised but None Were Seriously Hurt.

Five people were thrown out of a buggy in Colorado City yesterday afternoon but fortunately the injuries did not amount to more than a few scratches and slight bruises.

The party in the carriage were Messrs. Jennie Hubbard, Amy Boyle and Jennie Boyle and Messrs. Burns and Childs. One of the horses was driving and turned too sharply from Colorado avenue south on Eighth street with the result the buggy overturned. The horse, a steady animal, did not run away and the people were righted and the drive continued.

EMPIRE TUNNEL WORK RESUMES

PORPHYRY DYKE ENCOUNTERED—A 124-OUNCE STREAK IN AGAIA LEVEL OF TENTH LEGION.

Empire, Colo., Oct. 9.—Work has been resumed at the breast of the Empire [illegible] being maintained. A few days ago a porphyry dyke was encountered in the tunnel, which is believed to be the same dyke that is being opened by the Gold Bug company on the western slope of Cooper mountain. Assays running from $2 to $16 per ton have been secured by the Gold Bug company, and the mineral being entirely free from sulphur it would seem to be an ideal cyaniding proposition.

In the Agaia level of the Tenth Legion a streak of smelting ore was encountered recently which gave returns of over ten ounces gold per ton, and [illegible] Cochran, who has been leasing on this [illegible] for the last three years, endeavoring to find the continuation of the large [illegible] found in the upper workings, is taking out a large quantity of milling and smelting ore. It is understood that it will be the policy of the Empire company to resume shipments for the present, although the new ratio announced by the smelters may be an inducement to continue shipments. [illegible] and the main tunnel will be driven ahead as rapidly as possible.—Daily Mining Record.

NEWLY INCREASED FORCE AT CUSTER

WOLCOTT GOLD SOON TO INCREASE SHIPMENTS AND TO BUILD MATTE SMELTER—HECTOR TO RESUME.

Custer, Colo., Oct. 9.—The Wolcott [illegible] and Development company is now shipping about a carload of ore a week and will increase this amount shortly as it is increasing its force. At present it is employing about twenty-five men. Most of the men are employed on the P. & O., but the Centennial tunnel on the Dayton and William Penn claims and the Cashier, of old Kansas Boy, all on Tyndall mountain, are being developed.

[illegible] have been made for and the location of a matte smelter fixed by the company upon its grounds about 300 feet west of the P. & O. shaft house down the hill, and a tramway will be built so as to take the ore directly to the furnace without extra handling. The plant will have a capacity of 15 tons per day, which is deemed sufficient for the present.

The Hector, one of the best properties in the district, has not resumed yet, although it is reported that the mine will start up soon. This property is a free milling proposition and gold [illegible] taken from the mine has indicated a gold vein of $150 per ton, and probably one half of the mineral values of the ore were saved.

On the First Colorado the drift is [illegible] of progress the rich taken out shows the vein is being approached and, although the gouge matter has been passed and harder matter again encountered, it is evident that the drift is in the west wall of the vein. The Custer Mining and Realty company expects to put on several more men when its vein is reached.

On the Dolomite drift to the east is showing up extremely well and the next 20 feet, the contract for which has been let, it is more than likely to open up a good body of ore from present indications. The various properties in this locality are showing up well, though none of them as yet have encountered the main ore body from which float assaying high gold is readily found.—Daily Mining Record.

SAN JUAN MINES BEING WORKED

ROYAL OR SULTAN MT. STILL DRIFTING ON MASEPPA VEIN. TRILBY DRIVING AHEAD TO OREGON SHIP VEIN.

Silverton, Colo., Oct. 9.—At the Royal Mining company's property on Sultan mountain development is advancing on the Maseppa vein where the perpendicular depth is more than a thousand feet and where a crosscut tunnel is in 180 feet. Two hundred and fifty feet north and 60 feet south has been drifted on the Maseppa [illegible] vein that averages five feet in width the company has mined [illegible] $12 to $18 milling ore enters in large quantities. It is their purpose to not only continue the drifts on the Maseppa but to drive the main crosscut tunnel further in the mountain in search of a shipping crude, and to this end the present force of 36 men will probably work during the coming winter months.

Trilby Going Ahead.

The Trilby is driving steadily ahead on its long tunnel to cut the Oregon Ship vein. It was figured from various measurements that a distance of 525 feet would [illegible] be sufficient for the purpose but the vein evidently dips more than was expected and at present the tunnel is in the left. It is now thought that but little [illegible] this year [illegible] up the surface shows a width of from 20 to 8 feet.

At Animas Forks.

At Animas Forks more activity is being displayed than for the past 5 years. [illegible] which is turning out [illegible] 25 men. The pack train of Jumbo peak is getting the product down to the Silver Wing mill near Eureka, which it is expected will start up within the next 10 days. The concentrates are to be made three into one and will be of a high grade. At this writing about 80 tons of ore is in the bins awaiting digestion.

George E. Cobb, a prominent business man of Kansas City, was in Silverton the first of the week to inspect the Continental [illegible] extensive capital the Kansas City end should the deal be made it would mean the expenditure of considerable money in development. The group belongs to John Morgan and consists of six claims on which the surface showing is excellent. A tunnel has been run for a distance of 120 feet.

For Zinc Smelter.

The encouraging outlook for the zinc industry in the San Juan, especially those counties adjacent to the coal fields of La Plata county, has caused the idea to a few prominent mining men of Silverton that a zinc smelter at Durango would be a profitable undertaking and have taken the matter under advisement with a view of interesting capital in what seems to [illegible]

[illegible] from the Sultan mountain [illegible] shipped to the Durango smelter at the rate of a car every [illegible] weeks. The ore shipment that was taken principally from the Animas and considered when mined some months ago, is being marketed. Stoping of ore in the mine will make regular shipments.

Cascade Tunnel Progress.

The Castelle tunnel with Jaque and [illegible] is nearing the Alaska vein and [illegible] of the [illegible] the destined [illegible] not far distant. One streak of about one foot in width assays $20 in gold and silver and the Eureka extension company is elated over this the first find.

At 200 feet hand work ceases in the consolidated Eureka tunnel at Eureka and power drills will be employed. The contractors have agreed to make 150 to 200 feet per month hereafter.—Daily Mining Record.
